It is the Eve of Christmas in Nuremburg, Germany, about the year 1850. The air is brimming with the sights, sounds, and smells of the holiday season, as preparations abound for the annual Christmas Eve celebration. Families everywhere are scurrying to festive parties. Fathers carry delightfully mysterious packages, while Mothers primp and fuss, as Mothers will, making last minute adjustments on the Christmas finery.

The story of Nutcracker opens in the home of Clara and Fritz Stahlbaum, whose father is the President of the Town Council. Holiday merriment is at its highest peak tonight, for at any moment the timeless magic that is Christmas will once again begin to unfold.

As Act I opens, we find the children's Mother, Father, and Nursemaid busily at work trimming the Christmas tree. Clara and Fritz, as is the custom in their country, are not permitted to see the tree until it is completed, and so are nearly bursting with anticipation waiting for the designated hour to occur. At last the long-awaited moment arrives, and the children rush into the living room, where they are dazzled by the splendid sight of the Christmas tree.

Soon the many guests invited to the Christmas Eve festivities begin to arrive. The most celebrated guest of the evening, eagerly awaited by all, is Clara's Godfather, Herr Drosselmeyer. A toymaker by trade, Herr Drosselmeyer creates life-size wind-up toys for everyone's entertainment. This Christmas Eve is no exception. To the amazement of all, Herr Drosselmeyer's creations, a mechanical doll and a dancing bear, perform charming variations.

The next item of the evening is the distribution of presents. All the girls receive dolls, and all the boys receive toy bugles. Herr Drosselmeyer has fashioned a special gift for Clara, a Nutcracker designed in the form of a small soldier. Clara falls in love with her Nutcracker at once and joyfully dances with him. Fritz, jealous of all the attention Clara and her Nutcracker are receiving, grabs the Nutcracker from her hands and leads everyone in a merry chase.

Although meaning no harm, his mischief catches up with him at last as the Nutcracker falls to the floor, broken. Saddened, Clara turns to Herr Drosselmeyer for comfort, who binds the Nutcracker's head with his handkerchief.

Now Fritz is indeed sorry for the mishap, but he is not willing to appear too contrite before all the guests. So he organizes the other boys in a noisy parade to taunt the girls. The parents quickly put an end to their teasing by organizing a dance for the children. They then engage in a stately polonaise themselves, marking the finale of the evening.

Once again, the time has come all too soon to bid farewell to friends and festivity. Clara and her family say their goodnights and, lingering in the living room, savor a final fond look at the Christmas tree before going to bed.

Although the house is quiet and still, Clara is unable to sleep peacefully without one more look at her poor Nutcracker. She tiptoes back into the living room. As she peers about the room, Clara discovers that everything has changed. Perhaps it is all a fanciful dream, but there before her eyes are huge mice nibbling persistently at life-size gingerbread cookies. The face of the Grandfather clock looks alarmingly like Herr Drosselmeyer, and the tree has grown to a tremendous size. Her beloved Nutcracker has become a live soldier who is leading a regiment of toy soldiers against the ferocious mice. The Nutcracker and his troops fight bravely, but the Mouse King begins to overpower them. Just when the Nutcracker is in the most perilous danger, Clara takes off her slipper and throws it at the Mouse King, hitting him on the head. The Nutcracker defeats the Mouse King and emerges victorious in the battle.

To her surprise, Clara discovers that her beloved Nutcracker has become a handsome young price. The prince is grateful to Clara for saving his life, and he invites her to accompany him on a journey to the fabled Kingdom of the Sugar Plum Fairy. Delighted, of course, Clara willingly accepts!

The road to the Sugar Plum's Kingdom passes through the exquisite land of the Snow Queen and her Prince. Here crystaline snowflakes dance amidst swirling mist to the song of the wind, and along with the royal couple, perform for Clara and her escort.

As Act II opens, Clara and her Prince have come at last to the land of the Sugar Plum Fairy. She and her court graciously welcome Clara with all the formality due a royal guest. So impressed is the Sugar Plum Fairy with the tale of Clara's heroism, that she summons her subjects to dance for her.

She seats Clara on the royal throne, and commands the entertainment to begin. Before Clara's enchanted eyes a most dazzling array of divertissements appear. There are spirited Spanish dancers, mystical Arabians, and animated Chinese dancers. Three Russians perform an astounding Trepak, while the Merlitons, or Reed Flutes, dance with graceful delicacy. Mother Buffoon and the antics of her brood bring smiles to the hearts of all, and the flowers of the kingdom waltz with elegance. The most memorable moment of the evening is the Grand Pas de Deux, performed by the Sugar Plum Fairy and her Cavalier.

All good things must end, however, and the time has come for Clara to say good-bye to the Sugar Plum Fairy and her magical kingdom. But as she bids everyone farewell, Clara knows that she may return to the fantasy of her dreams whenever she sleeps.

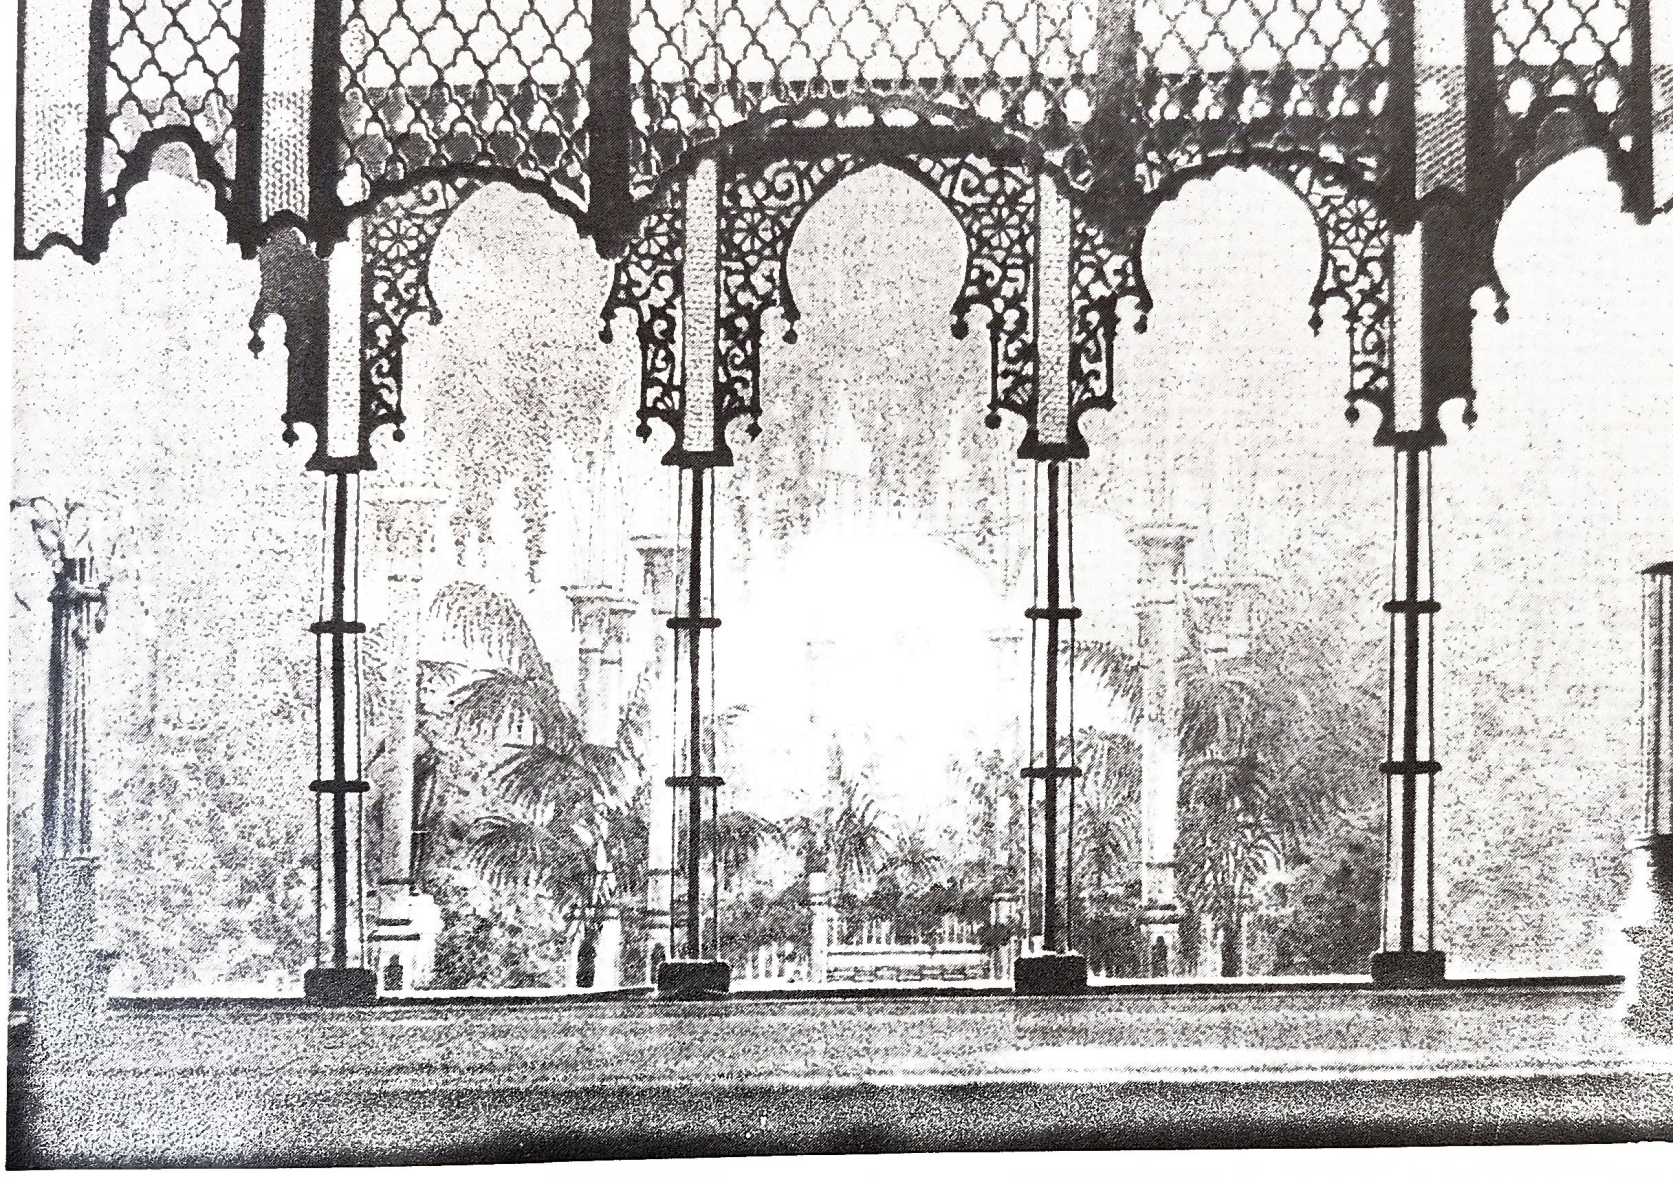
A MAGICAL BALLET OF THE ARABIAN NIGHTS

ABDALLAH



Ballet West will return to active dance repertory the great lost work of August Bournonville — ABDALLAH. ABDALLAH was created by the great Danish ballet master and choreographer for the Royal Danish Ballet in 1855 and has never been presented in this century. The recreation of this full-length story ballet will be the largest, most prodigious artistic project ever undertaken by Ballet West.

This nineteenth-century ballet in three acts (eight scenes) is filled with charm, excitement and fantasy. Set in the exotic Middle East, ABDALLAH is akin to a tale from the Arabian Nights, with its story of a poor young shoemaker, his beautiful sweetheart, and an enchanted lamp possessing magical power.

Leading this collaborative artistic venture will be Bruce Marks, artistic director for Ballet West and former principal dancer with the Royal Danish Ballet, and Toni Lander, on the artistic staff of Ballet West and former prima ballerina for the Royal Danish Ballet. Ms. Lander is one of the world's few acknowledged experts on the technique and ballets of August Bournonville. She will reconstruct the choreography and staging of ABDALLAH, working from the original scenario (Bournonville's scenario is in the collection of artistic director Bruce Marks) and from extensive notes in Denmark's Royal Theatre Archives.

This project has sparked considerable excitement nationally and internationally and will draw critics from all over the world.

Jens Jacob Worsaae, designer for the Royal Theatre in Copenhagen, will create the scenery and costumes for the production.

The world premiere of ABDALLAH will open at the Capitol Theatre on February 20 through the 25th. Tickets go on sale January 21, 1985.

IN MEMORIAM

LEW CHRISTENSEN

Ballet West wishes to recognize one of American ballet's most distinguished native sons, Lew Christensen—who was director of the San Francisco Ballet for more than 30 years.

With his brothers Willam and Harold, Lew Christensen launched his professional dancing career on the vaudeville circuit in the early 1930's. As a member of the American Ballet, he was hailed as America's first native premier danseur for his performances in George Balanchine's "Orpheus and Eurydice" and "Apollon Musagete." In the late 1930's and early 1940's, the works he choreographed for Ballet Caravan, Dance Players and Ballet Society established him as one of the nation's leading choreographers.

As director of San Francisco Ballet, Mr. Christensen developed a unique repertory and reputation for this internationally known ballet company. He choreographed new ballets for the Company, many of which have entered the repertories of companies around the world, and he encouraged the work of young choreographers now familiar to audiences throughout the West. He choreographed over 90 ballets, operas and musicals in the course of his 57-year career.

In April 1984, the Christensen brothers received the Capezio Dance Award at a special ceremony in New York City. Other awards bestowed on Mr. Christensen include an appointment as a charter commissioner of the California Arts Council (1964); the Dancemagazine Award (1973) and an honorary doctor of fine arts degree from John F. Kennedy University in Orinda, California (1982). In July 1984, Mr. Christensen was honored in a special tribute by the Archives for the Performing Arts in celebration of his 75th birthday.

Mr. Christensen passed away on October 9, 1984.

Best wishes for a happy holiday season
and a healthy and prosperous new year.

ARTS COUNCIL AWARDS GRANT

Ballet is a facet of the arts which can be enjoyed by people from all walks of life. Oftentimes, however, there are those who would like to attend a performance but do not have the financial means to purchase tickets.

With the aid of a grant for the Salt Lake Arts Council this year, arrangements have been made for 800 underprivileged, low-income citizens from the Salt Lake Valley to attend a Ballet West performance in the Capitol Theatre. The complimentary tickets are being distributed through Utah Issues to those deserving area residents who might otherwise not be able to attend a performance.

In addition to assisting with ticket availability, the grant has also helped make possible a special performance of Ballet West's Nutcracker for the handicapped and disabled.

REMEMBER NUTCRACKER... VISIT BALLET WEST'S BOUTIQUE

During the Nutcracker season in the Capitol Theatre, the Ballet West Boutique will be open in the foyer.

On November 12, 1984, at a formal ceremony in New York City, Jeffrey Nash Rogers of Ballet West was selected as a "Princess Grace Foundation Apprentice" for 1984-85.

The Princess Grace Foundation was established this year to support young American artists in theater and dance. Ballet West was among three ballet companies in the nation to receive dance apprenticeships.

Jeffrey, who came to Ballet West from the National Academy of the Arts in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, joined the Company on June 1, 1984 as an apprentice. He and artistic director Bruce Marks were in New York City to receive the grant of $20,000 presented by Prince Albert and Princess Stephanie, the children of the late Princess of Monaco.

Preferred Creditline is for anyone who hates to ask for money.

It gives you $5,000 to $100,000 of extra spending money. . .plus a Premier VISA card and special checks so you can spend it.

Once your application for a Preferred Creditline at American Savings is approved, you can stop asking people for money.

Because anytime you need money after that, you simply spend it.

Anyplace.

Spend $50 to $100,000

We're not talking nickels and dimes here either. A Preferred Creditline can extend your buying power anywhere from $5,000 to $100,000.

Higher credit limits are usually secured through the equity in your primary residence.

But credit may also be obtained on an unsecured basis.

Preferred Creditline is easy to use too. You can charge as little as $50 with a Preferred Creditline Premier VISA card. Or write a check for as little as $100.

No or low interest

Using your Preferred Creditline won't cost you much either. In fact it may not cost you anything.

If you pay off your balance within 25 days, there's no interest charge at all.

If you don't, the annual percentage rate is only 2% over the monthly prime rate for a secured Creditline. Or 3% over prime for an unsecured Creditline.

Which is very good, either way.

Payback terms are also kind to you. . .2% of your outstanding balance or $100 a month, whichever is greater.

The last time you'll ask for money

Preferred Creditline offers you a number of other benefits. Too many to mention here. But we'll be happy to talk about them when you ask us about Preferred Creditline.

To do so, call 531-5680 or visit one of American's 26 Utah branches.

You'll be only too happy to take the time.

Because it could be the last time you'll ever have to ask for money.

For more information on Preferred Creditline, call 531-5680.

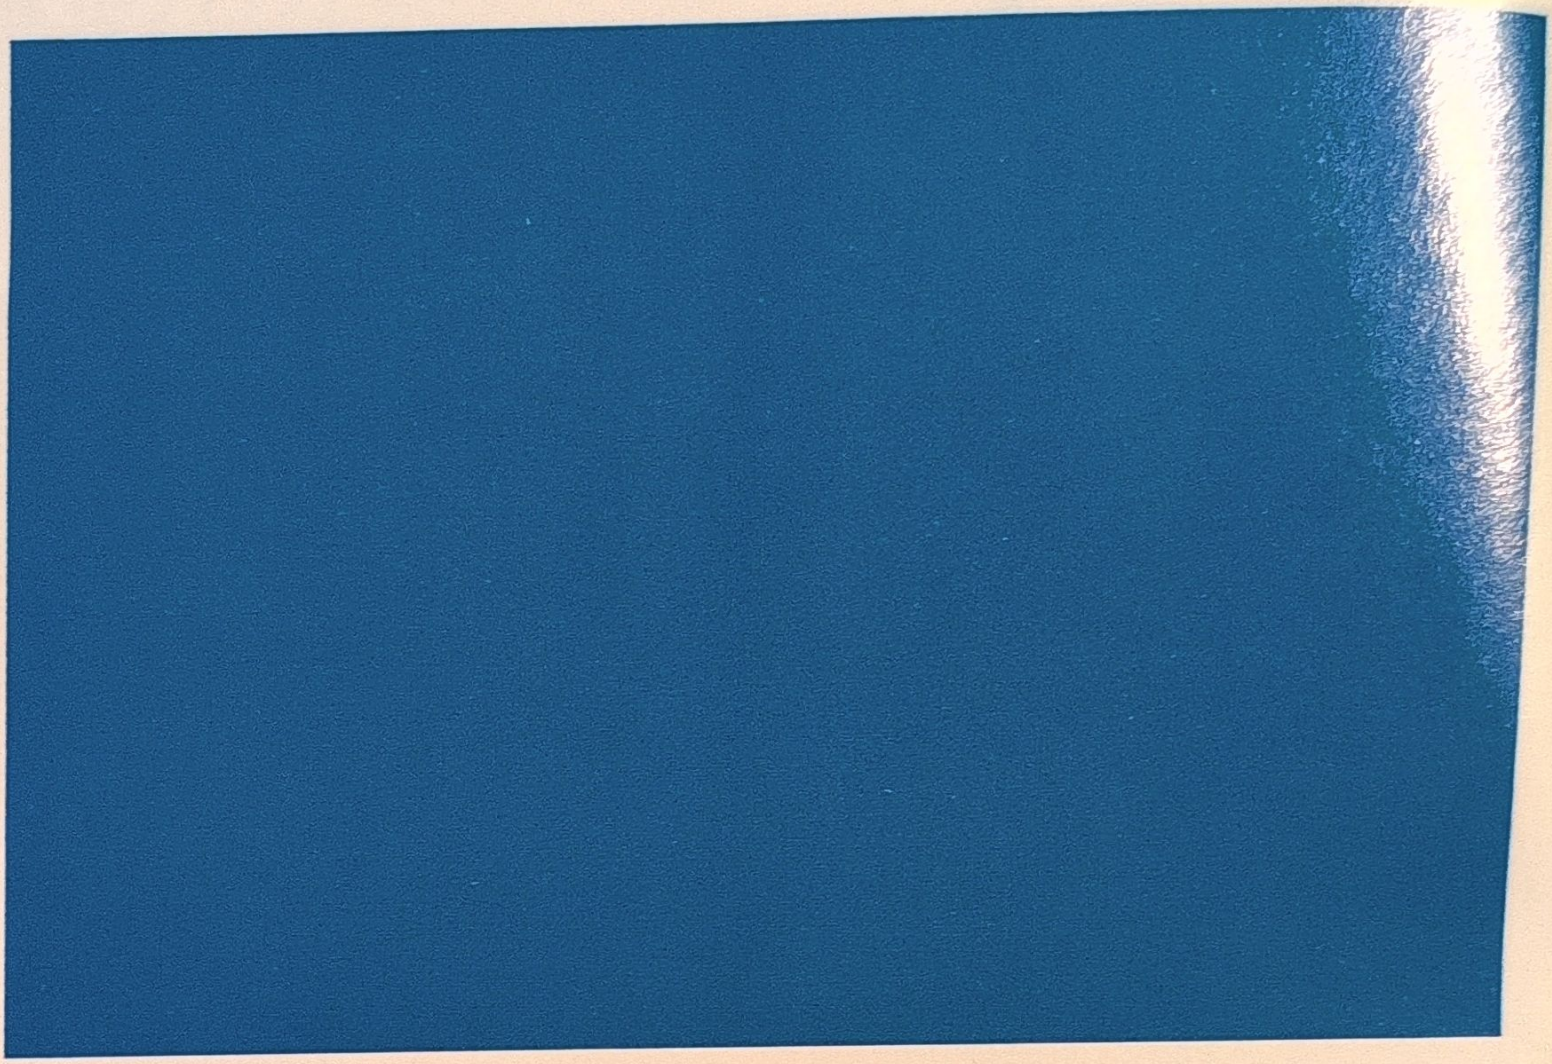
IF YOU CAN NAME THIS COLOR,



YOU CAN ALSO NAME THE HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANY THAT SAVED UTAHNS OVER $7,000,000.

Nope, that figure isn't a mistake.

Our "fair payment" agreements with doctors and hospitals saved Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Utah customers that significant sum in 1984 alone.

Translated, that reads lower premiums.

And when you combine those cost savings with the flexibility and convenience of our plans, it's easy to see why Blue Cross & Blue Shield covers more Utahns than any other health insurance company in the state. Just over 288,000, to be exact.

Now, shouldn't you be getting your share of our savings and benefits? We think so, too. And we'd be happy to arrange it.

BALLET WEST FORMS PARTNERSHIP WITH ARIZONA COMPANY

Ballet West has formed a cultural partnership with the Arizona Metropolitan Ballet, a six-year-old Phoenix area-based ballet company. The Arizona organization will change its name to Ballet West Arizona.

The partnership announcement was made October 12, 1984 in Phoenix during ceremonies in the offices of Arizona Governor Bruce Babbit. Governor Babbit praised the new alignment with Ballet West, saying "The cultural collaboration of the two companies and the states of Arizona and Utah will insure high quality professional ballet performances for the citizens of Arizona and surrounding areas."

Your financial needs are not like anyone else's. We know that. You should know this: State Savings is not like most other financial institutions. At State Savings we won't try to fit you into one established IRA. We'll find an IRA that fits you.

We have fixed-rate and variable-rate IRAs with terms from 18 months to five years. Our counselors can help you evaluate your financial situation and choose the IRA that works within it.

If you're looking for high rates and a choice of Individual Retirement plans, come see us at State Savings. We're pretty original ourselves.

You get better service from people who love their work. And their company. That's the Delta Spirit

Delta people love Delta. Ask them why and you hear things like "family." Delta people feel—feel very honestly—that they work for something far more personal than a corporation.

Fine. But what's that get you? Great service. Because when people feel good, it shows. When people feel good, they have more to give, and Delta has over 35,000 people who give their best every day. That's the Delta Spirit.

"ANYONE WHO TRAVELS IS WELL AWARE OF THE WASTE OF VALUABLE EXECUTIVE TIME AND GREATLY REDUCED PRODUCTIVITY WHEN CORPORATE AIRCRAFT AREN'T USED."

-PRESTON PARISH Vice Chairman of the Board and Chairman of the Executive Committee Upjon Co.

It's a well known fact that Jet Charter service is an invaluable corporate tool. Benefits such as reduced executive fatigue, competitive advantage, total flexibility in scheduling, avoidance of crowded terminals, fewer nights away from home, security and superior comfort and service (all on a discreet basis) are experienced by the corporate traveler. As well, when using charter aircraft there are over 20 times as many community airports available to you than are serviced by commercial airlines. This means you land closer to your business destination, saving important and valuable time.

An equally important fact to your business, is that for years Barken International has been providing this kind of Executive Jet Charter Service to the Salt Lake City business man. Featuring Learjet 20 and 30 Series Jets, Cessna Citation Jets (including the Citation, Citation I-SP and The Citation II), the Mitsubishi Diamond Jet and a number of fine Prop-Jets. Call us for more information on how we may make your business time more productive and your efforts more successful.

Growing in all directions

TWA is already the biggest airline across the Atlantic.

Now it's growing bigger.

We've added 6 more cities to our US network: Atlanta, Jacksonville, Memphis, Milwaukee, Norfolk and Raleigh-Durham. This gives us over 60 cities in America.

We've expanded our European side too, adding 5 new cities: Amsterdam, Brussels, Kuwait, Munich and Zurich.

It means we'll be flying more passengers from and to more places. For the past 10 years we've carried more passengers across the Atlantic than any other transatlantic airline. It's easy to see why.

The new, expanding, bigger TWA.

Salt Lake's own world class airline

You're going to like us

Buy a Steinway for half the price of a Steinway.

If you think you can't afford a Steinway Piano, consider this.

While no Steinway is "inexpensive," our verticals are less than half the price of our smallest grands. Yet every bit a whole Steinway.

They are built by the same skilled hands that build our grands, with the same materials and exclusive patented features.

Furthermore, a Steinway vertical retains its value as well as a Steinway grand, should you decide to trade up later.

No matter what you pay for a Steinway, it sounds and performs like a Steinway.

For literature about the Steinway, write to John H. Steinway, 109 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.
